Call for Papers!

Leadership: Vision, Risk & Change

CEPA's leadership conference will be held October 26-27, 2017. The conference venue is the El Tropicano Riverwalk Hotel, San Antonio, Texas. The CEPA Consortium of colleges, universities and institutions is hosting the conference.

You are invited to share your vision on leadership with colleagues from the Americas. Keynote speakers, informative sessions, research studies, panel discussions and more will comprise this empowering conference. Critical issues including educational reform, public security, community-building, human rights, social, economic and cultural concerns and leadership for a global community will be addressed. The consortium will provide a premier opportunity for networking, mentoring, and high-powered professional development. Moreover, graduate students will have the opportunity to collaborate with senior professionals from many disciplines while at the same time actually practicing leadership.

This partnership among colleges, universities and other institutions will bring together internationally-minded individuals and educationally responsible entities to meet the urgent need for a different approach to improving leadership. Everyone is invited to attend.

Papers: Individuals interested in submitting a proposal should complete the Online Proposal Form. Click on this link for directions on submitting your proposal:

Poster displays: Innovative educational paradigms describing a research project and/or your vision are also encouraged. Visionary leaders from any field, possessing bold and adventurous ideas, can display their unique talent at this conference. Vision is not seeing things as they are, but as they will be!

We are interested in submissions that are both conceptual and empirically-based research papers, abstract, case studies and work-in-progress. The work should represent the application of various theoretical lenses to explain the relationship between ethical leadership to a global perspective.

Proposals, for papers and posters, are due no later than October 1, 2017

All proposals accepted for presentation will be included in the official program

Presenters should provide their own easel for their poster display

Criteria for selection of proposal include:

- Relevance to the conference theme
- What problem does the proposed paper address?
- What is the research question?
- How are you going to answer your research question?
- Significance of the specific topic to the general audience
- Does the proposed paper (content, design, creativity) contribute to the literature?
